

Sandy & Murph Movie Reviews

SANDY

Hey, Terry---There are some really good movies coming out this summer. Looks like it is going to be a good year!!!!

KINGDOM OF HEAVEN: I'm not sure if this is a "girlie" flick, but it is a great movie about the war between the Muslims and the Crusaders. The storyline is flawless. The fight scenes are quite real and a bit bloody, but this movie stays true to what it was like to fight a war in those days. You visit Jeresulem in the days following the death of Christ, and I honestly felt that I was there. The acting (Orlando Bloom) was very good. This is the best picture that I have seen so far this year. ★★☆☆

MONSTER IN LAW: This is a girlie movie all the way. It is kind of cute, but doesn't quite get there. Jennifer Lopez still has a hard time with her acting skills. And, as always, she plays the little poor girl who hits the big time when she meets the handsome, rich doctor. Only, this doctor has a monster for a mother. Jane Fonda plays the mama with a mental problem and she does a good job. There is too much "slapping around" by these two women, and I personally didn't think it was funny. Although, there were some funny lines throughout. ★★☆☆

MURPHY

KUNG FU HUSTLE--It took a while to get into the spirit of this flick, but once I did it was a pure joy. Sorta like a cross between Crouching Tiger, Hidden Dragon, Jackie Chan meets the Three Stooges, and a Keystone Cops movie. Be prepared to giggle and laugh out loud a lot as you watch the craziness. ★★☆☆

STATE OF THE UNION--An embarrassing, implausible, dumb, explosion-a-minute action movie. I almost walked out several times but hung in there to the inevitable, painful conclusion. ★

A LOT LIKE LOVE--Aston Kutcher's attempt to re-do "When Harry Met Sally", but fails in the attempt. Not really all that bad, but ultimately dies from a bad case of trying to be overly cute. The most enjoyable part of the film for me, was when Aston plays the electric guitar and sings a slightly fractured love song while trying to win the girl back. It was the funniest part of the whole silly movie. ★★
