

Sandy & Murph Movie Reviews

SANDY

Hi Murphy, didn't bump into you at the movies this month, what did you see?

Mad Hot Ballroom -This is a documentary about 5th graders in New York City, After 9/11, all 5th graders in the five boroughs (counties) are required to take Ballroom dancing. At the end of the school year, there is a competition in which one of these schools will win first place. These kids are from the inner city and have never ballroom danced before this competition. I saw this movie twice and I plan on buying it when it is released on DVD. I would encourage everyone to see it. I am going to go way out on the limb and give it ★★★★★★★★

March of the Penguins --Very good documentary. It explains the cycle of life and birth of a penguin. Morgan Freeman narrates this film. The scenery was breathtaking. But, I found it a tad bit dull. I found my eyes closing now and then. A lot of people enjoyed it, but I think they need to get a life! ★★★

The Man --This movie is about a cop (Samuel Jackson) who gets an innocent by-stander (the guy with bushy eyebrows from American Wedding) involved with his plans to catch gun dealers. The cop sets up the innocent guy to play a buyer with lots of money to buy the guns from the crooks and then arrest the bad guys. Of course nothing goes smooth thru out the movie. There is a lot of stupid slapstick with very few funny jokes. The funniest part was when the bushy-eyed innocent by-stander lets out a huge stinky fart. But, after a few more farts, this wasn't very funny. ★★

MURPHY

THE 40-YEAR-OLD VIRGIN --A potty-mouthed, sweet, adult, and very funny sex-comedy that almost, but not quite, makes a great film. If you enjoy clever, crude, raunchy guy jokes, you just might get a kick out of this one. Although I don't usually like this type of movie, I liked it. ★★★

RED EYE -- A fast-paced, suspenseful nail-biter that, in the end, got a little unbelievable. Still, it did keep me on the edge of my seat most of the time. This is a good case study in how to make a quality psychological thriller. ★★★

THE CAVE --I know that this yet another flesh-eating monster movie, got fashionably panned, and had it's faults, but I still enjoyed it. It's was scary and fun. It made me jump out of my seat a couple of times. Think "Aliens" in a cave. ★★

Carolyn Brode volunteering as always, talking with her mom and friend Tonya. Thank you Carolyn.
